

Nation's Medical Schools Are Increasingly Diverse

In 2018, for the first time ever, women are the majority of both applicants and matriculants.

From 2017 to 2018

6.3%  American Indian or Alaska Native Matriculants

4.6%  Black or African American Matriculants

Note: The race/ethnicity data points include individuals who identified in one or more race/ethnicity categories.

Source: AAMC FACTS Tables as of Nov. 9, 2018

Association of American Medical Colleges | www.aamc.org